To mark World Cancer Day 2022, IQ City Institute of Nursing Sciences is organising a national Webinar themed “Close the Care Gap”. Cancer is the one of the most serious concerns among all age groups across the country and world. It creates a huge burden on the patient as well as family in terms of money, energy, and time.

Breast cancer and cervical cancer are most prominent among females of reproductive age in India. The aim of this webinar is to create awareness of breast cancer and cervical cancer among nursing students & health care professionals for disseminating the knowledge to the general public to make them aware about cancer prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation to build a productive nation.

Objectives

At the end of the webinar participants will be able to:-

- Determine the significance of breast and cervical cancer.
- Identify the risk and challenges of screening of breast and cervical cancer.
- Explain readily available treatment modalities to tackle the cancer.
- Describe holistic and rehabilitative care by nursing personnel.
- Enumerate the roles & responsibilities of family and community to ‘Close the care gap’.

Target Group:

- Nursing Students UG/PG
- Nursing officers/Staff Nurses
- Faculties
